

John Doe

Professor Kelli McBride

ENG 1113.03

29 May 2024

A Meaningful Life Outline

1. Ideal Audience: My audience would be those who play it safe and are afraid to take chances. Since I'm a teenager, I'm really speaking directly to young people who have not had a lot of chances to live on their own or do things without family, but I think my message would work for anyone.
2. Your Purpose: I don't know what exactly set me out to challenge myself in order to overcome things that made me afraid or felt too hard to overcome, but I am glad I got that push. I try to share what I've learned with others because I know the difference it made in my life. I would regret not taking the chance, even if I would have failed.
3. Thesis Statement: My different experiences helped me develop independence, self-confidence, and resilience that will help me face the challenges of life.
4. Topic Sentence 1: Backpacking through Southeast Asia taught me independence.
5. Topic Sentence 2: Joining the debate club in college gave me self-confidence.
6. Topic Sentence 3: Practicing for my driver's license exam taught me resilience.
7. Reader Reaction: I want readers to see how important it is to face challenges in life and not be afraid of the unknown. If we always play it safe, we won't grow and live our life to the fullest.